OUR MISSION

Serving the global US military aircraft community since 1973 with unrivaled resourcefulness, reliability, and integrity.

OUR STRENGTH LIES IN:

- A wealth of experience and a robust global network of contacts with major aerospace corporations, both in the US and international governments that deploy US legacy aircraft
- One of the largest databases of OEM engineering drawings and legacy TOs, TMs, NAVAIRS that allow us to manufacture parts no longer supported by the OEM
- Hill Flight Support provides not only product, but solutions, in supplying obsolete assemblies, LRU, and components for fixed & rotor wing aircraft.

Our ever-entrepreneurial spirit drives us to take on unique challenges with a never-say-no attitude. Our goal is to provide creative, dependable, and competitive solutions to our global customers' needs. Our growth and success in the industry is a testament to the consistent delivery of our promises, as well as our consistent commitment to quality and customer satisfaction.

ABOUT US

- 1973 Harry Lebovitz founded Hill Industries with a focus on domestic and international sale of equipment for military aircraft and helicopters, as well as manufacturing and overhaul of various aircraft components for the US and international militaries
- 1980 Hill Aviation and Logistics, a division of Hill Industries, was created to focus on international governments operating US military aircraft.
- 1990 Hill Aerospace & Defense, a division of Hill Industries, was created for the sole purpose of contracting to the US Department of Defense.
- 2004 Hill Industries and Logistical Support, LLC merged to create a publicly traded company. These two companies were government contractors in the aerospace and defense industry since inception, primarily for parts and service of military aircraft and helicopters.
- 2009 Harry Lebovitz established Hill Flight Support, LLC with a new focus to service international clients, specializing in legacy military fixed & rotor wing aircraft.
- 2018 Terry Lee joined Hill Flight Support, LLC to lead the company in marketing and finance, with a focus on building HFS' Consultancy business in Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East. Terry is a graduate of Boston College and Columbia business school, and a 22-year veteran of Wall Street (with previous affiliations with Citigroup, Credit Suisse, Credit Agricole, and the Korea Foreign Trade Association. Terry's position at HFS is that of the CFO/COO.
- 2021 With the passing of our founder, and great friend, Harry Lebovitz, the position of CEO/President was passed onto his beloved wife and accomplished businesswoman Jamie Lee. We also lost our amazing employee and dear friend Dale Brownlow, whose expertise in structural repair and modification helped us for the past 10 years.
